WILL RECOMMEND BUILDING PLANS

American Mechanics' Special Committee Will So Advise Local Council Next Week.

When New Britain council, O. U. A. M., convenes next Thursday evening the special building committee will make several important recommendations in reference to building. The plan at present under consideration is along the line of that followed by the Masons, the forming of a building corporation.

If the council members approve of the plan, the next step will be a thorough canvass to see if enough stock could be subscribed to warrant the venture. Finding that it could, locations and building possibilities would then be considered.

At the meeting of the lodge last evening two candidates took the first degree, and it is possible that the state officers will be present.

Earl Kisselbrack, F. E. Clark and F. C. Rockwell will receive the state councilor's degree at the state session in Bristol next Thursday.
